UASA Honours International Literacy Day hosted by the Mining Qualifications Authority (MQA)

UASA is a proud labour partner that attended the International Literacy Day (ILD) celebration hosted by the Mining Qualifications Authority (MQA) at Richards Bay in KwaZulu Natal.

International Literacy Day is an annual event celebrated globally recognizing the importance of literacy among communities, society, and individuals. The MQA further recognized the importance of a well-structured program like Adult Education and Training (AET), which improves adult literacy levels.

Presented by Operational Managers Cynthia Jone, Khosazi Byeki, and Operational Assistant Chantelle Ndlovu, UASA is pleased to have been part of such an impactful celebration, recognizing the importance of literacy in society not only for young people but also for older who have been left behind, closing the literacy gap in our country.
